

Matt Morgan

Matt Morgan, not to be confused with the wrestler of the same name despite his statuesque build, is a writer and occasional presenter. He is currently writing the second series of a self devised comedy narrative entitled 'The Mimic' for Channel 4. Based around a new and exciting impressionist Terry Mynott, the show concerns a lonely man who uses his ability to mimic celebrities to get ahead, though often with comically dark consequences.

Matt was also head writer on Very Important People—an impression show that mocked our beloved stars—for Channel 4. He wrote the 30-minute sitcom Fun Police for Channel 4's 2011 Autumn Comedy Showcase season. It starred Ryhs Darby and Vic Reeves.

Perhaps Matt is best known for co-presenting the anarchic Russell Brand Radio Show for BBC Radio 2. It ran from 2006 to 2008 and won a Sony Gold Award in 2008. Russell and Matt reunited on the radio in 2010 to present a 20-part Saturday night show for talkSPORT.

In 2008 Matt co-starred alongside Russell in On The Road, a documentary on Jack Kerouac's iconic novel. To celebrate the 50th anniversary of the book's publication and in tribute to beat pioneer himself, the pair embarked on a Kerouacian peregrination coast to coast across America. The trip took just over three weeks and gave viewers a hilarious adaptation of the original journey. It aired on BBC 4.

Additionally, Matt has written scripts for several award shows including Galaxy National Book Awards in 2010, US MTV VMA Awards in 2008, The Brit Awards in 2007 and the NME Awards in 2006.

Furthermore, he has written for numerous other TV shows including two series of the BAFTA-nominated Russell Brand's Ponderland (C4), Russell Brand's Got Issues (E4), 1 Leicester Square (MTV), The Kevin Bishop Show (C4) and Comic Relief (BBC).

In 2004/5 Matt wrote an animated series called Empire Square, directed by the drummer from Blur, for Channel 4 in the UK. The Fuse Network in the US then picked up the show and Matt headed up an NYC-based writing team to produce six half-hour episodes.

For more information please contact Hannah Linnen on hannah@johnnoel.com, 0207 428 8400.